Exception

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) extends to any action where the time for bringing the action is specially limited by an Act. S.Nu. 2022,c.14,s.9(f).

Definition of "action"

2.1. (1) For the purposes of this section, "action" means an action for trespass to the person, assault, battery, wounding or other injury to the person where the cause of action is based on conduct of a sexual nature.

No limitation period for sexual assault in certain situations

(2) The limitation period set out in paragraph 2(1)(d) does not apply in respect of an action where one of the parties had an intimate relationship with the aggrieved person, had a relationship of trust with the aggrieved person or was someone upon whom the aggrieved person was dependent.

Other limitation period does not start until person capable of commencing action

(3) Where the relationship between the parties is not one of those described in subsection (2), the limitation period set out in paragraph 2(1)(d) does not commence so long as the aggrieved person is incapable of commencing the action because of his or her physical, mental or psychological condition.

Presumption

(4) Unless the contrary is proved, an aggrieved person shall be presumed to have been incapable, because of his or her physical, mental or psychological condition, of commencing an action earlier than it was commenced.

Prior limitation periods do not apply

(5) This section applies whether or not the right of an aggrieved person to bring the action was at any time governed by a limitation period. S.N.W.T. 1995,c.8,s.2.

Concealed fraud

3. When the existence of a cause of action has been concealed by the fraud of the person setting up this Part or Part II as a defence, the cause of action shall be deemed to have arisen when the fraud was first known or discovered.

Item in account

4. No claim in respect of an item in an account that arose more than six years before the commencement of the action is enforceable by action by reason only of some other claim in respect of another item in the same account having arisen within six years before the commencement of the action.

Foreign limitation does not apply

4.1. Where an action is one defined in subsection 2.1(1) and the court determines, in that action, that the law of a jurisdiction other than Nunavut is applicable and that the law of that jurisdiction governing the limitation of actions is, for the purposes of private international law, classified as procedural, the court shall apply the law of Nunavut as set out in section 2.1. S.N.W.T. 1995,c.8,s.3; S.Nu. 2013,c.20,s.23(2)(a).

DISABILITIES

Person under disability

5. Where a person entitled to bring any action mentioned in paragraphs 2(1)(c) to (i) is under disability at the time the cause of action arises, the person may bring the action within the time limited by this Act with respect to the action or at any time within two years after the person first ceased to be under disability.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS AND PART PAYMENT

Subsequent acts

6. (1) Whenever any person who is, or would have been but for the passage of time, liable to an action for the recovery of money as a debt, or his or her agent in that behalf,

- (a) conditionally or unconditionally promises his or her creditor or the agent of the creditor in writing signed by the debtor or the agent of the debtor to pay the debt,
- (b) gives a written acknowledgment of the debt signed by the debtor or the agent of the debtor to his or her creditor or the agent of the creditor, or
- (c) makes a part payment on account of the principal debt or interest on the principal debt, to his or her creditor or the agent of the creditor, an action to recover any such debt may be brought within six years after the date of the promise, acknowledgment or part payment, as the case may be, notwithstanding that the action would otherwise be barred under this Act.

Effect of written acknowledgment

(2) A written acknowledgment of a debt or a part payment on account of the principal debt or interest on the principal debt has full effect whether or not a promise to pay can be implied from that and whether or not it is accompanied by a refusal to pay.

Joint contractors and covenantors

7. Where there are two or more joint debtors, joint contractors, joint obligors or joint covenantors, or executors or administrators of any debt or, contractor, obligor or covenantor, no such joint debtor, joint contractor, joint obligor or joint covenantor, or executor or administrator shall lose the benefit of this Act so as to be chargeable in respect or by reason only of any written acknowledgment or promise made and signed, or by reason of any payment of any principal or interest made, by any other or others of them.

Recovery against those acknowledging

8. In actions commenced against two or more joint debtors, joint contractors, joint obligors or joint covenantors, or executors or administrators referred to in section 7, if it appears at the trial or otherwise that the plaintiff, though barred by this Act, as to one or more of such joint debtors, joint contractors, joint obligors or joint covenantors, or executors or administrators, is nevertheless entitled to recover against any other or others of the defendants by virtue of a new acknowledgment, promise or payment, judgment shall be given for the plaintiff as to the defendant or defendants against whom the plaintiff is entitled to recover, and for the other defendant or defendants against the plaintiff.

Endorsements of payments

9. No endorsement or memorandum of any payment written or made on any promissory note, bill of exchange or other writing, by or on behalf of the person to whom the payment has been made, shall be deemed sufficient proof of the payment, so as to take the case out of the operation of this Act.

Counterclaim and set-off

10. This Part applies to any claim of the nature mentioned in this Part alleged by way of counterclaim or set-off on the part of any defendant.

and in that case, no proceedings shall be taken except within six years after the payment or acknowledgment, or the last of the payments or acknowledgments, if more than one was made or given.
